I am seventy-seven years old, and have had my age renewed at least twenty years by the use of Swift's Specific—so that now I feel like I was about fifty-seven. My trouble was Eczema for fifteen years. My foot and leg to my knee was a running sore for two years, and physicians said it could not be cured. After taking fifteen small bottles S. S. WEATHER INDICATIONS.
U. S. Department of Agriculture.
Weather Bureau.
Toledo, April 4, 1892.
Weather Conditions.

The weather map shows a storm of great energy central near North Platte, Neb., moving northeastward. The barometric gradient is very steep and will probably cause severe local storms in the southeast quadrant. This storm has the same characteristics as the great storm that moved eastward last Saturday morning and doing so much damage over the country. This storm will probably be central over the upper lakes Tuesday morning. There is an area of high pressure, accompanied by low temperature, over Manitoba, which will probably follow the storm and be felt in the Missouri and upper Mississippi valleys and in this vicinity Wednesday morning. Storm southeast signals are ordered at all stations on Lake Michigan. The weather in this vicinity will be rainy and probably severe local storms and thunder to-day, following by colder weather.

Get rid of it, if you have Catarrh. Don't merely relieve it for a time with poisonous, irritating snuffs and strong caustic solutions. While you seem to be getting help, you may be getting harm. Stopped in this way, it's usually only driven to the lungs. You're worse off than ever.

But you can get rid of it completely, with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. That's been proved over and over again, in thousands of the most hopeless cases. By its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties, Catarrh in the Head and all Catarrhal affections are perfectly and permantly cured.

Some physicians will tell you that Catarrh can't be cured. They mean that they can't cure it. Dr. Sage's Remedy can. And to prove that they believe it, the proprietors of this medicine will pay $500 for an incurable case of Catarrh. They don't see one often, but they'll pay the money when they do.

RUMORS OF WAR.

Argentine Again in Political Trouble.

Dr. Alem a Prisoner in His Own Home,

Charged With Conspiracy Against the Flag.

Fighting in the Streets of Buenos Ayres.

Many Radicals Reported Killed and Serious Outbreak Expected at Any Time—The Militia Under Marching Orders.

Buenos Ayres, April 4.—The energy of President Pelligrini and Chief of Police Donovan displayed upon the discovery of a dynamite plot among the radicals doubtless saved the country, for a time at least, from being plunged into the throes of a revolution.

The plot has been hatching for some time and there is no doubt but that the plotters intended to move yesterday.

The prompt arrest of the leaders has temporarily cowed the radical clubs, and with the majority of the radical leaders in custody and the presidential candidate of the party banished to his country seat and under police espionage, the rank and file of the revolutionists do not know which way to turn.

It is rumored that in the numerous conflicts in all parts of Buenos Ayres with the police some of the radicals were killed. This report lacks confirmation, for the wildest stories are afloat.

President Pelligrini has ordered all the troops in camp at Maldonado under arms, and they are prepared to march into Buenos Ayres at a moment's notice.

All Saturday night the government house was guarded by an entire regiment of infantry. The utmost precautions have been taken to avoid surprise. All suspected parties who have not been placed under arrest are closely watched. The police have seized the offices of Sud America and Argentino, two of the leading radical afternoon papers.

The radicals claim that the arrest of Dr. Alem and the other leaders of their party was not because any plot had been discovered, but in reality to keep these men in custody until after the elections of April 10.

The citizens in general, however, seemed inclined to applaud the government's action.

La Prenza states that Dr. Alem has applied to the federal court for his release under a writ of habeas corpus.

Dr. Irigoyen, who was supported by the radicals for the presidency, is accused by the government of having provided a big sum of money for the purpose of revolution. The doctor, from his country seat, where he is virtually a prisoner, declares through the press that he is innocent of all complicity in the plot, and protests hotly against his detention.

This city is quiet at this moment, but there is no telling how long the enemies of the administration will remain inactive.

Only on the surface is it peaceful. Advices from other parts of the republic show that the spirit of revolt prevails everywhere. It is the general impression that the radicals will regain courage and start an insurrection between now and election day.

BORROWE A BAD MAN.

He Was Shot While in California.

The Mutual Friend of Mr. Drayton Seems to Have Had a Very Checkered Career.

San Francisco, April 4.—Borrowe, the mutual friend of the Drayton family, had a California experience that is shrouded in mystery, and carried a bullet about with him in his anatomy for several days.

Two years ago he came around the Horn from New York on the invitation of Harold Le Breton, brother of Mrs. Langtry, to spend the summer and fall at her ranch in Lake county.

He had a quarrel with the mate of the ship, but no gore was spilled. On the ranch he was welcomed by Le Breton and by Harry Oelrichs, of New York. They loafed in the heat of the day and at night attended all rural dances and merry-makings.

Suddenly there was trouble, but just what its nature was cannot be learned, as those familiar with the facts will not tell them.

At any rate Borrowe left between two days. His friend, Le Breton, was his constant minstrant during the drive to the railway at Calistoga. The stay in San Francisco was short and the weather as leaden as the bullet in Borrowe's body.

There was an explanation given by Borrowe to the effect that his revolver had exploded accidentally in a Middletown hotel barroom, but Lake county laughed at the idea.

COMBINE IN STREET CARS.

A Great Consolidation in New York.

Eighty Miles of Road, Carrying Millions of Passengers, Under One Management.

New York, April 4.—A big street railway deal has been brought about by Messrs. Widener, Dolan and Elkins, the traction millionaires, by which seven New York city railroads are consolidated under one management, after the pattern of the Philadelphia Traction company.

Ex- Secretary of the Navy Whitney was also prominent in the deal.

The lines which are lumped together are the Avenue C, the Broadway and Seventh avenue, Chambers street, Twenty-third street, Ninth avenue, Sixth avenue, and the new Metropolitan.

John D. Crimmins, the contractor, is made president of the united lines, and Daniel S. Lamont secretary. The combination covers a mileage of about eighty-two miles, and is the largest property of the kind of any horse line company in the United States, having more capital and carrying more passengers. The object of the combination is said to be for the purpose of enabling the property to be better and more economically managed and preserved.

A DUEL TO THE DEATH.

Winchester Rifles Were the Weapons and There Was a Woman in the Case.

New Orleans, April 4.—News has just reached here of a fatal duel with Winchester rifles on Turnbull's island, at the mouth of the Red river.

The principals were Michael McGowan and Andrew Kirk, both citizens of West Melville.

The duellists, together with a nuber of their friends, crossed the river at 8 o'clock and the distance of 100 yards was measured off and the men placed back to back. When the signal to turn was given McGowan fired, but missed his adversary. Kirk calmly leveled his rifle and, taking deliberate aim, shot McGowan in the head, the ball entering near the left eye and coming out at the right ear. The wounded man fell to the ground and expired almost instantly.

The sheriff had learned of the intention to fight a duel and had followed the party. He reached the scene a few minutes after the shooting and arrested Kirk and the seconds.

The cause of the duel dates back about two years. Kirk was engaged to marry a young lady, but on account of slanderous stories circulated about him the engagement was broken. He accused McGowan of being the author of the stories and bad blood between the men has existed since that time.

"PARSEE MERCHANT" DEAD.

Charleston, S. C., April 4.—Mrs. Amelia Moore, widow of Joseph S. Moore, widely known under the nom de plume of the "Parsee Merchant," died suddenly of congestion of the lungs Saturday. She was about 50 years old.

Mrs. Moore's husband died about a month ago and since then she has been in poor health. She came south for rest. She leaves seven children. The family reside in New York.

OUR SECRET BALLOT LAW.

It is to be Again Amended at Columbus.

The Voter Will Have a Hard Time in Keeping Up With the Changes Made by the Statesmen.

Columbus, April 4.—The joint committee to which was intrusted the work of revising the Australian ballot law is about ready to report, and Attorney-General Richards has a bill which amends the present law so there will be nothing of it left except the sectional numbering. In the first place the bill exempts the country, that is the townships and villages of less than 3,500 people not divided into wards, from the operation of the law. This part of the bill is in consonance with the laws enacted during the past week.

The most radical amendments are about the matter of printing and marking the tickets. In the first place the subdivisions of the blanket ballot are to be indicated by black lines at least one-eighth of an inch in width. Then there is to be a large square at the head of each ticket in which the voter who desires the straight ticket must place his mark. Smaller squares are to be placed at the left of each candidate's name and the voter who desires to mix his politics is requested to indicate the proportion of his mixture by placing an X in front of the names of all candidates that please him. Upon these points everything is explicit. "Scratching" by the erasure of a name and the substitution therefor of another name is to be allowed. In presidential years the electoral ticket is to be at the head of the list. As to the selection of judges in township and village precincts the provisions of the old law are re-enacted. It is claimed for this bill that its provisions are entirely constitutional.

A BOOM FOR CHICAGO.

New York Has Slept While Her Rival Progressed.

London, April 4.—The Daily News says that the Chicago world's fair will, of course, be the very biggest thing known, and especially strong in notions.

The colossal scale of the handel orchestra of industrial debate will undoubtedly rival its prototype in harmony as well as in size, and yet it will be nothing as compared with the magnitude of the conception of a world's parliament of religions. Chicago is in a perfect St. Vitus dance of progress, and New York seems slow beside it.

HELD UP BY GIRLS.

Mystery of the Western Robbers

Has at Last All Been Explained.

Six Maidens Dressed in Male Attire

Who Have Been a Terror on the Plains.

Old Man Harvey, Wife and Family Have Been Doing a Land Office Business for Many Months Without Detection.

Salmon City, Idaho, April 4.—A few days ago the fact of numerous stage holdups in this section of the country was noted, and the belief expressed that sensational developments would follow.

These developments have come, and there now board with the sheriff a man and seven women, or rather one woman and six girls.

The belief was strong that Old Man Harvey and his family were responsible for the numerous robberies and this belief has now become a certainty, for the girls were caught in the act by a clever scheme worked by the officials.

It was found that the stages were robbed on the side of Harveys, from that ranch, after they had left there. An east going stage would be robbed east of Harveys, while a west going one would be held up on this side.

The sheriff concluded that the old man and his girls had more to do with this than any one else and set a trap which worked well.

There were certain spots along the road where the robberies were done, and in one of these places the sheriff, with ten men, waited while the stage stopped at the house, the driver being previously instructed to betray fear of robbery because he carried a money box. The bait took, and when the stage people were eating dinner the girls disappeared, and soon the sheriff and his party in ambush saw six young men sneak into the little canyon and hide themselves close to the road.

When the stage came along the bandits went forth and stopped it at the point of their guns, but the sheriff was also there and took in the whole gang, which proved to be composed of the girls who had left the house.

When arrested one of the girls weakened and told the whole story. She said she never liked the work and was glad they were caught. They were trained to it by their father and mother, and the proceeds were shipped east for sale, so as not to excite suspicion in the country.

TO KILL PRES. PALACIO.

Dynamite Hurled at the Yellow House.

Much Damage Reported to Have Been Done.

The Town of Caracas Thrown Into Intense Excitement by the Explosion—Many People Placed in Jail.

New York, April 4.—The Herald's Caracas, Venezuela, cablegram says President Palacio had a narrow escape from death by dynamite.

A bomb has been thrown by some unknown person at the Casa Amarilla, or president's yellow house, which is one of the most notable edifices in Caracas, and corresponds to the white house at Washington.

Palacio was then in one of its rooms conferring with some of his leaders as to the plan of campaign against Gen. Crespo and his army of rebels.

The bomb's tremendous detonation caused a fearful panic. Such citizens as had the temerity to be out of doors at that hour rushed to the nearest place of refuge, fearing that the insurgents had entered Caracas and a scene of pillage and carnage was to ensue. All the windows of the houses in the neighborhood were quickly filled with blanched faces.

The telephone at once notified the police of the attempted assassination, and in a short time they dashed up to the Casa Amarilla. The troops also hurried to the scene. They drew up in front of the yellow house and remained on guard throughout the night.

All the window panes in the building were smashed. Palacio was unhurt, but pretty badly frightened. The withdrawal from all other parts of the city, both of the police and military, to protect the president, gave the revolutionists concerned in the plot every chance to escape. When search was made for them not a trace could be found.

Numerous partisans of Crespo took advantage of the fact that the police and army guards were summoned to the Yellow House to leave the city with the intention of joining the rebels.

It is rumored that on the morning following the bomb explosion Palacio's family privately left the capital. All of the members of the federal council are in jail. Everybody of any prominence is in constant fear of his personal safety. The slightest suspicion is enough to cause the arrest of the most prominent residents of Caracas. Gen. Crespo is with Manzano at San Carlos.

They have a large army of lancers and 1,500 infantry. The surrounding country is level and a fight there would be nearly all to the advantage of the lancers. It is hardly probable that the government's troops will dare to give battle to the enemy in Cojedes.

KILLED AT A PICNIC.

Little Rock, Ark., April 4.—An alliance picnic near Cove, Ark., Saturday afternoon, had a very sad termination. Those in attendance were enjoying themselves in a piece of woods when a sudden wind storm of much force arose. Trees were blown down in all directions, killing two of the picnickers, mortally injuring two, while several of the others were dangerously hurt.

MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARED.

Elmira, N. Y., April 4.—Samuel R. Brown, traveling agent for a Philadelphia firm of beef extract dealers, has mysteriously disappeared from the Rathbun house in this city, where he has been stopping for some time. He has been very much worried of late over a letter which he expected from home, and it is thought he may have killed himself.

SPORTING GOSSIP.

Louisville had a great picnic with the new Toledo Western association team on Sunday, and defeated the boys by a score of 19 to 1. Of course Toledo is outclassed with the league team, and this defeat should not discourage the admirers of the team.

But Columbus went down to Cincinnati and fared much better than Toledo did, which certainly does cast a shadow of sadness over the hopes of Toledoans.

Cincinnati had very little trouble in defeating Toledo, but Columbus made the Reds work hard to defeat them by a score of 4 to 2, on yesterday.

Both Columbus and the Cincinnati teams were arrested for playing Sunday ball, and the cases against them will be pushed. Judging from the activity of the authorities in the various base ball cities, a lively fight is to be made against Sunday ball, and Toledo will probably have some experience in this line before the season is far advanced.

St. Louis defeated Milwaukee Western yesterday by a score of 8 to 1.

MUST PULL TOGETHER.

No Aid for Ireland so Long as Factions Exist.

New York, April 4.—The municipal council of the Irish National league met yesterday and decided to hold a mass meeting about April 20 at Cooper union. The precise date will be determined later.

It was reported that invitations had been sent to Senator Hill and to Gov. McKinley to be present and speak.

The object of the meeting is to express the sentiment that before further aid is extended to the Irish cause the opposing factions at home unite under one leader.

TO DOWN THE SOCIALISTS

Conservatives and Liberals Join Hands

To Uproot Their Strong Young Enemy.

The Combination Was Brought About by a Variety Singer Breaking Into the German Reichstag.

Berlin, April 4.—The conservatives and liberals of Saxony have made a combination to the effect that in any election involving a choice between a member of either party and a social democrat, the electors of both parties shall work unitedly against the election of the social democrat.

This agreement was made by 103 of the 127 members of the Saxon parliament and is the result of the election of a social democrat named Hoffman to the reichstag.

Hoffman's success, Caprivi remarked, was a disgrace to constitutional government.

Hoffman, before becoming a candidate, was a singer in a variety show in the hotel De Poloque in Leipsic, and was a member of the Leipsic quartet, an organization which sings questionable songs in low theaters.

In the first election he got 11,301 votes against 10,870 for the conservative and 1,103 for the independent candidate.

In the by-election he was victorious only because the independents abstained from voting. It is said that the emperor has requested the grand duke of Baden and the regent of Bavaria to endeavor to have the conservatives and liberals in their provinces make a similar combination including, if possible, the clericals.

BISMARCK'S BROTHER IS DYING.

Berlin, April 4.—Bernard von Bismarck, the ex-chancellor's older brother, is dying of pneumonia on his estate at Knelz. This brother was the eldest of Prince Bismarck's six brothers and sisters, and, excepting the prince, is the only surviving male member of their generation of the family. The ex-chancellor has been summoned to his bedside.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Christian Scientist in Trouble in Chicago.

Police Interfere, but Too Late to Save a Life, Hence the Arrest Was Made.

Chicago, April 4.—When Mrs. Jennie Nichols, a widow aged 35, died after a week's illness, the police promptly arrested Mrs. Stebbins, a so-called Christian scientist, who has been in attendance.

Others associated with Mrs. Stebbins in the affair would, it was reported, be taken into custody.

Mrs. Nichols' fellow boarders learned that she was in a dying condition, and that no physician had been called. They notified Police Lieutenant Healy, who, with Dr. Van Pelt and two officers, immediately went to the woman's room.

The doctor was refused admission by Mrs. "Scientist" Stebbins, and by Mrs. Nichols' sister, Mrs. Winifred Jones, a Milwaukee school teacher.

Entrance was forced, however, and the poor sufferer found swollen to twice her natural size. Mrs. Stebbins, in handling the case, had, as an assistant, a Mrs. Noyse, who is known as a "silent helper." The Stebbins woman was graduated in "Christian science" by the noted Mrs. A. B. G. Eddy, of Boston.

A coroner's jury decided upon a verdict declaring that Mrs. Nichols' life would, under proper medical treatment, have been prolonged, and holding Mrs. Stebbins to the grand jury.

ARE APPLYING THE TORCH.

Incendiary Fires Reported in Montreal.

A Hundred Thousand Dollars' Damage and a Number of Firemen Overcome by Smoke.

Montreal, April 4.—This city was beset yesterday by a number of fires, which, in four instances, were of incendiary origin.

At the last fire, an attempt was made to destroy the Bonsecours market. It came near being a success, and before it was under control 18 firemen were overcome by smoke and had to be taken to the hospitals, while 30 others had to be laid off for a short time. The loss is about $100,000.

RAVACHOL CONFESSES.

Paris, April 4.—Ravachol, the anarchist, has made a full confession. He says the St. Gemain murder was committed by him to obtain money for spreading the propaganda. He says he is too proud of what he has done to deny that he is the author. If he had not been arrested he would not have been content with three explosions.

FREAKS OF THE STORM.

Later News from the Terrible Cyclone.

Each Report Tells of Additional Details.

Kansas City, April 4.—Many strange stories are coming in about the freaks of the wind which caused so much devastation all over the western part of the state. The list of dead and injured is increased with every new report received, and it is now estimated that the deaths will reach 60 within the state borders, while three are reported killed at Oklahoma.

In most instances those who were killed died instantly by being struck by flying debris, and in only three or four cases were the deaths lingering. The hundreds who were injured have principally broken limbs and severe contusions. In very few cases will the injuries prove fatal, although many victims were compelled to lie all night in the soaking rain which followed the storm.

A son of Wm. Eggers, in Butler county, was taken from his father's arms by the force of the wind and dashed to death against a tree in front of the horrified parents, while the father barely felt the force of the wind.

James Wilson, in Greenwood county, was caught up by the tornado, carried through the air and forced against the side of a barn where a scantling was run through his body. He was pinned to the barn eight feet from the ground and died in horrible agony.

At Dalton, the house of Wm. Little was crushed, he and his four children killed and his wife badly injured.

About 50 persons were injured and as yet it is impossible to make any estimate of the damage to property. Hundreds of people are homeless and many families have lost all they possessed. Relief meetings are being called in neighboring cities.

ON THE INLAND LAKES.

Canal Discrimination as of Old.

Canada Will Make the Most of Her Big Ditch — General and Local Gossip.

Ottawa, Ont., April 4.—The minister of customs states that the government has decided to grant a rebate of 18 cents per ton on all grains passing through the Welland and St. Lawrence canals through to Montreal this season, the same as last year. Trans-shipments will be permitted at Kingston, but will not be allowed at Ogdensburg or any American port.

This would indicate that the Canadian ministers are determined not to relax in the course they have followed with regard to the discrimination against American citizens in the use of the Canadian canals.

Matters Marine.

The Nyanza and Fedora are due here from Erie, for which port they will load corn.

The Arthur came down from the creek to-day and will load grain at Quale's for Erie.

The steamer City of Toledo will probably dock at the Madison street wharf this summer.

Inspectors DeWolf and McGrath are in the city and will examine six vessels this week here.

The steamer Panther is loading corn at No. 5 for Erie. The Massasoit will load to-morrow.

The tug Butler returned from Lake Huron yesterday. She encountered considerable ice.

The tug Rooney went out to the lake yesterday and set the temporary guard stakes along the channel.

The Reynolds went out this morning in tow of the Roy, coal laden for Erie. This is the first departure of the season.

It has been decided to run a boat in competition with the City of Toledo this season to Put-in-Bay. The round trip will be 50 cents every day.

The first tramp steamer to leave this port will probably be the Wocoken, which will clear Monday for Toledo to load grain for Buffalo.—Cleveland Leader.

Cheboygan, Mich., April 4.—Ice has gone out of the straits at this point and it is broken up as far as the eye can reach above here. Boats can make this port without trouble from Detroit.

The executive board of the Buffalo Grain Shovelers' union have adopted the old scale of rates for the ensuing season. This makes the net rate for sail vessels $3.50 and for steamers 84 per 1,000 bushels, with deck and fantail loads on steamers $4.50.

The Clover Leaf steamers Blanchard and Pridgeon arrived in light Saturday night from Detroit. Low water kept the boats at Turtle Light for several hours. The Blanchard grounded and was released by the tug Roy. The boats load grain for Erie.

Milwaukee, April 4.—Dispatches to the Wisconsin from the Straits of Mackinaw and Green Bay show that the heavy southwester cleared both of those thoroughfares of ice. Clear water exists at Cheboygan. The ice is moving out of Green Bay into Lake Michigan.

The following was received here yesterday: Notice is hereby given that, on or about April 25, 1892, a fixed red lens-lantern range light will be established, on a post 22 feet high, on the outer end of the north pier at the entrance to Sheboygan harbor, Lake Michigan, Wisconsin. The light should be visible in clear weather two or three statute miles, and with Sheboygan pierhead light will form a range showing the direction of the piers and the course to be followed in entering the harbor.

HAS MADE A RECORD.

Preacher, Burglar, Forger, Incendiary and Murderer.

John Arthur Simpson Proves to be No Other Than the Much Wanted Julius McArthur.

Dover, N. H., April 4.—The picture of John Arthur Simpson, alias George Simpson, alias George A. Stillwell, formerly of Fredericton, N. B., once a Baptist minister, later a burglar, horse thief, incendiary, forger, bigamist, and finally a murderer, has been identified as that of Julius McArthur, who killed Deputy Sheriff Charles H. Smith, of New Hampshire, May 16, 1891, while resisting arrest for stealing a horse, and who escaped from the jail in this city July 17, 1891.

McArthur is supposed to have gone west. He is a remarkably fluent talker. He can preach a sermon, make a prayer, or deliver a practical oration in a manner to win him compliments, while his education and natural judgment enable him, where his record is not known, to gain consideration as a polished gentleman.

BLOCKS OF FLAME.

A Disastrous Blaze in New Orleans.

Eighty Thousand Bales of Cotton Burned,

Causing a Loss of Over Two Millions.

Exciting Scenes in a Southern City.

A Whole Square of Warehouses Filled With Thousands of Bales of Cotton Entirely Destroyed in a Few Hours.

New Orleans, April 4.—One of the most destructive cotton fires on record broke out at 10 o'clock Sunday morning among some cotton on the sidewalk in front of the fire-proof press on North Front street.

The parties who saw the smoke issuing from among the bales gave the alarm immediately and a few moments later the bells rang out.

The department responded promptly, but the wind was so high and the cotton so dry that it burned like tissue paper. The flames ran high, and in a short space of time had communicated to the press itself and were working their way along the woodwork of the roof.

The firemen worked like heroes to arrest the progress of the flames, but all their efforts were unavailing.

Two of the walls cracked and fell to the ground as it succumbed to the devouring element and the flames leaped upward from every part of the compass. Through the yard swept the fire, carrying devastation with it as it went, burning cotton and wood as if they were so much paper.

The fireproof press had about 10,000 bales of cotton stored in it. This was entirely consumed. It would have been madness for firemen to enter the press. On every side the flames were raging, forming a formidable and impassable fire wall.

The streets were lined with spectators drawn to the scene from every part of the city. The hoarse cries of the firemen as they rushed to and fro giving orders and the cries of women and by-standers and the shrill whistling of the engines formed a picture never to be forgotten.

The police under Sergeant Aucoit were on the scene doing whatever was required of them; but their presence was of little avail, as the crowd was very decorous. The firemen were compelled to remain at a great distance from the flames, owing to the intense heat.

After an hour the fire-proof press was totally destroyed and the flames had communicated to the other press. The destruction was as great here as at the other press. In a short time the flames had attacked the building from all sides, devouring the woodwork with wonderful rapidity.

In this press were stored 50,000 bales of cotton, some of which was taken out and brought to a place of safety. The major portion of the staple, however, was in flames in a short time and it was impossible to save it.

It required but a very short time with the high wind that was blowing to destroy this press. For a space of at least two blocks a sheet of flame shot upward. The smoke and sparks from the fire were blown into the streets by the winds and choked and blinded the spectators.

In the yard were stored some 10,000 bales of cotton. This proved excellent fuel for the flames, and in a little time it was consumed. At length four rows of charred walls were all that stood to remind one that a large building had once occupied the site.

The place was gutted, and its contents, consisting of about 20,000 bales, were consumed. There was no chance to save any portion of the cotton, as the work of destruction was very rapid. For some time the men worked on these flames and when it became apparent that none of the bales of cotton could be saved they devoted their attention to the surrounding structures.

Water was poured into the windows and through doorways and everything was thoroughly wet. This probably saved a number of conflagrations, as sparks were falling in all directions. The walls of the different burned presses fell within a short time of each other.

In each case there was a sudden trembling which caused those walls to fall precipitatedly, a heavy surging and then a deafening crash that could be heard squares away, and the streets would be strewn with bricks and other material.

The presses destroyed are as follows:

Fire proof—Penrose Bros., managers; South Front street, southwest corner of Robin street.

Independence cotton yard—South Peters street.

The total amount of cotton burned, as near as can now be ascertained, is estimated at 80,000 bales, held by factors and commission merchants and covered by their open policies. Much of this cotton will be sent to the pickeries and saved, so that the total loss will probably not exceed $30 per bale, making the total loss on cotton of between $2,000,000 and $2,250,000. Loss on presses and sheds estimated at $150,000.

PROGRAM OF CONGRESS.

Tariff Bills Still to be the Order.

After Free Wool is Taken Care of Binding Twine Will be the Next Article Tackled.

Washington, April 4.—According to the present program of the leaders of the majority the tariff question will be practically the only matter under consideration in the house during the coming week, and at its close two or possibly three separate tariff bills will have been transferred to the senate.

The binding twine bill will follow the wool. It is believed by the speaker that a few hours of general debate on each side will suffice to bring this measure to a vote, and that perhaps it can be acted on in season to permit the cotton bagging bill to be taken up before the week closes.

Unless there should be a disposition to debate the binding twine or bagging bills at considerable length the appropriation bills will be suffered to wait upon the tariff bills. With the possible exception of the urgency deficiency appropriation bill none of them are likely to be taken up this week. Saturday at 2 o'clock has been set apart for eulogies upon the late Representative Melbourne H. Fors, of Michigan.

The Indian appropriation bill will come up in the senate this afternoon, and there is pending but one motion, viz.: To strike out the provision transferring to army officers the duties of Indian agents, it is believed that the bill can be passed in half an hour. Then Mr. Morgan's resolutions are to be called up and the senate is to enter upon a thorough discussion of the silver question as well as of the depression which is asserted to exist in agriculture. Mr. Morgan himself has undertaken to open the debate, which will doubtless occupy the entire week, but the order in which senators will speak has not been further arranged.

CLOSED THE BANK.

Philadelphia, April 4.—Acting under the authority conferred on him by acts of assembly, State Commissioner of Banking Charles H. Krumbhaar stepped into the office of the Mutual Banking, Surety, Trust and Safe Deposit company, No. 137 Arch street, and ordered business suspended and its doors closed pending a full inquiry into its methods of doing business.

A certain man in a certain town,
Who bore the good name of Brown,
Had often to his cronies said
(In his foolish days, while still unwed)
That she to whom he might be mated
Should never use the hyphenated
Style of name, thus written down:
"Mrs. Mary Scoundso-Brown."

But fate is fickle and contrary;
He wed a woman literary,
And now, to his disgust and shame,
In print each day he sees his name
Reduced to something less than naught,
And lugged in like an after-thought,
In a style his very soul to sadden

THE STORM OF YESTERDAY.

Heavy Rains in the Oil Fields.

Work Stopped by the Water—Washouts Reported — Interesting News from St. Marys.

St. Mary's, O., April 4.—(Special)—The heaviest rain that ever visited this section was experienced yesterday. The fall of rain was unprecedented, and St. Mary's river is out of its banks, and numerous houses along the bottom are inundated.

Wheat was flooded out and other damage wrought by the flood, which is the worst since 1883.

In the oil fields work is practically suspended, and the reservoir is about as high as it ever was, water surrounding the derricks and tanks.

Reports have reached here of a washout along the Lake Erie & Western railroad and all trains are late, while freights are not running.

During the heavy thunder storms lightning struck the two-story brick residence of William Pieper, at Minster, this county, completely shattering it. The family had a narrow escape and all were prostrated by the shock.

The old Miller homestead, near Fort Recovery, was destroyed by fire yesterday. In it resided three sisters, one an imbecile who has been bedridden for 10 years, and all are very eccentric. They recently built an elegant residence near the old one and furnished it complete and now refuse to live therein.

At the time of the fire there was in the house enough silk and dry goods stacked up, which had been purchased at the request of the imbecile sister, to equip a big store.

All this was burned, together with five gold watches, jewelry, etc.

The loss is $5,000; no insurance.

The news from Africa is of a very disquieting character. A force of 6,000 natives is besieging the town of Quilimane, in Southeast Africa; a British expedition in Samadee has met with a serious repulse, and the Italian colony of Massowah, on the Red sea, has also been menaced. The "Dark Continent" may yet be a great battleground.

Miss Lettie Huntley,

Is the sister of Mr. W. S. Huntley, of Cortland, N. Y., a well known carpenter and builder. Her frank statement below gives only the absolute truth concerning her illness and marvelous recovery by the aid of Hood's Sarsaparilla. She says:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Dear Sir: Twelve years ago I began to have hemorrhages and four years ago became so low that the physicians told me

There Was No Hope

and I should soon die. I could not be moved from my bed. Under my face were napkins continually reddened with blood from my mouth. I could eat nothing and had no action of the bowels for a week. The doctors said the cause was ulcers in the stomach. At this time my mother said she wanted to make one more trial, and asked if I would take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I told her it would be

but finding it would comfort her, I began taking it. In a few days the bloating began to subside, I seemed to feel a little stronger, but thought it only fancy. I was so weak I could only take ten drops of Sarsaparilla at first. In two weeks I was able to sit up a few minutes every day. In a month I could walk across the room. One day I asked what they were to have for dinner, and said I wanted something hearty. My mother was so happy she cried. It was the

First Time I had Felt Hungry for Two Years

I kept on with Hood's Sarsaparilla and in six months was as well as ever in my life. It is now four years since I recovered, and I have not had a day's sickness since, nor any hemorrhage. If ever a human being thanked the good Lord on bended knees it was I. I know that Hood's Sarsaparilla, and that alone, unquestionably Saved my Life."

Messrs. Sawyer & Jennings, the well known druggists of Cortland, say that Miss Huntley "is a highly respected lady; her statement of what

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Balser Brown, a painter of Kenton, O., was arrested and brought to Toledo this morning by U. S. Deputy Marshal S. O. Latimer on the charge of sending obscene literature through the mails.

He is charged with writing and mailing an indecent epistle to a Mrs. Sours, of Kenton. He will have a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Hall this afternoon.

A LIFE INSURANCE POLICY

The Basis of a Legal Controversy in Common Pleas Court.

In common pleas court to-day Sophie Harms sued the United Life Insurance association to recover $1,000 on a policy.

The plaintiff states in her petition that her husband, Louis Harms, took out the policy, September 4, 1891, and died Jan. 15, 1892, having complied with all of the conditions of his contract and had paid all money due on same. She alleges that no part of the amount has been paid, though proof of death has been furnished and due application made.

INJURED IN A RUNAWAY.

And Now Makes Claim for $2,000 Damages.

Margaretta Callehan filed action in common pleas court to-day against George Whitmill to recover $2,000 damages for personal injury. She alleges that the defendant drove a team in such a careless manner on Oak street, on June 19, 1891, that before she could escape the team struck her, and as a result of the injury sustained she was confined to her bed for 12 weeks, and was compelled to pay out a large sum of money.

SOLD HIS FATHER DRINK.

Michael Kinney Sues Saloonkeeper Merickel for Damages.

In common pleas court to-day Michael J. Kinney sued Lewis E. Merickel, a saloonkeeper, to recover $3,000 damages as a result of the sale of intoxicating liquor to his father, Mathias Kinney, and that he draws a pension of $12 per month.

The plaintiff states that Mathias Kinney spends all his time and money in the defendant's saloon, and that he, the plaintiff, is compelled to support Mathias and wife.

NOT UP TO SNUFF.

Some Lawyers Who Are Not Familiar With the Election Laws.

On Saturday afternoon the judges of the precinct met to organize, which consists of the election of one of the judges to preside. Notwithstanding the fact that there are two lawyers on the board, they elected a clerk, as presiding judge. This is clearly a violation of the law, but these wise judges did not learn this point until the newly elected judge applied for the ballots.

THE FIRE COMMISSIONERS

Hold Their Regular Monthly Meeting—What Was Done.

The fire commissioners met in regular session Saturday afternoon.

The chief filed his monthly report. It showed 25 alarms, 16.2 miles run, and 9,400 feet of hose laid. The pay roll, amounting to $4,441.32, and a schedule of bills amounting to $482.39, were allowed.

Mr. Richardson stated that Hon. C. P. Griffin requested that a specified statement of the necessary expenditures for new engine houses be drafted, to be submitted to the legislature. He also requested that the amount to be expended for grounds and buildings be placed at $21,000, and the amount for salaries for the year and equipment be specified.

Patrick McKinley, a driver, was up for neglect of duty. It was charged that he failed to report at the proper time March 17, after his day off. He was reinstated.

Fire alarm boxes were ordered to be placed on South street, between Broadway and the canal, and another on the corner of Smead and Bancroft streets.

JOAN OF ARC.

Getting Ready for the Annual Entertainment—Change of Night.

After this, during the coming quarter, the Joan of Arc assembly will meet in Clark's hall every Friday evening. The meeting this week is a red-letter one. The annual entertainment, commemorating the fifth anniversary of the founding of the assembly, will be given on Friday evening, April 22.

EXCITING RUNAWAY.

A Boy Has a Miraculous Escape from Death.

This forenoon a horse attached to a light wagon came dashing down St. Clair street from the direction of the Fifth ward. At Perry street the frightened animal took the sidewalk and threw a boy who was standing on the curbstone about 20 feet. He was picked up and, strange to say, he had not received a bruise. After a few minutes he walked away apparently unhurt. It was a miracle that he was not instantly killed. The horse dashed the wagon up against John Warder's saloon, and tearing loose dashed on and finally disappeared up Monroe street.

UP GOES THE PRICE OF COAL.

The Combine Advances the Price 25 Cents a Ton.

Local coal dealers have been notified that coal has advanced 25 cents a ton. The $5 hard coal of last year has been advanced to $5.25. This is an advance of 25 cents over the past season.

The price last year was $5.25, but during the fall there was a cut of 25 cents. The combine is right in it. The price will be maintained this year, and there will be no cutting.

The coal chutes at Buffalo will not open until May 1, and no charters are being made.

WHEELMEN AND TRAPSHOOTERS

Will Get No Reduced Rates to Their Meetings in Ohio.

Toledoans interested, are disappointed in the fact that the Central Traffic association has declined to make a low rate to the Ohio Trapshooters' league, annual tournament at Columbus, May 10, 11 and 12.

Excursion rates have also been refused for the Ohio district, German Evangelical Synod of North America at Pittsburg in June, and to the meet of the Ohio Division League of American Wheelmen, at Columbus, July 4 and 5.

THE CITY ELECTION

Proceeding Quietly—A Light Vote Being Polled Thus Far.

The weather this morning opened up in good shape to allow all to sing the song, "This is a Democratic Day," but whether this will prove true remains to be seen. A call at many of the polling booths elicited the information that up to 2 o'clock a comparatively light vote was being polled, although it may be increased before the time for closing, 6 o'clock.

Relative to the query, "How is the scratching?" the workers were at sea. The Australian system does not give much opportunity for judging as to this point.

There is practically no use offering a prediction as to the outcome, as the result will be known almost before readers complete perusing the Bee. Democrats are confident of winning a victory, and it is to be hoped this will be the case. It is proper to state the republicans are also confident. The Bee will tell all about it to-morrow.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Rev. Dr. McGaw conducts services at the Maumee Presbyterian church each evening this week except Saturday.

Try the Rose brand of hams, shoulders and breakfast bacon, put up by Jacob Folger, St. Clair street, near Washington.

Marriage licenses were issued to-day to Benjamin R. Good and Florence Z. Pickett and Burnham R. Oswald and Alweine Huthloff.

Confirmation exercises will be held at St. Paul's Episcopal church, Maumee, on Friday afternoon of this week. Bishop Leonard will attend.

Channing Sunday was observed by the Unitarians yesterday. Rev. A. G. Jennings preached an appropriate sermon at Memorial hall annex.

Vince Emmick, mayor of Toledo, has been appointed state oil inspector. This is the fattest of all the governor's fat give outs.—Canton News-Democrat.

The entertainment given in Westminster chapel last Wednesday evening will be repeated at the same place this evening. The program, consisting of music, recitations and tableaux, will be from 8 to 9 and a reception will follow.

The jury in the case of Frederick W. Siek against the Consolidated Street Railway company, after two days' deliberation, failed to agree and was discharged Saturday evening. It was an action to recover $141 for damages to a bakery wagon in a collision with a motor car on Lagrange street.

TROUBLE ON THE GOLD COAST

Native and Foreign Practices Clash.

Subjects of the Late King Sakitty Objected to Having His Remains Buried in a Cemetery.

London, April 4.—Advices from East Africa state that there has been trouble lately among the natives on the gold coast.

The chief seat of the unrest was in the eastern Corbo country, and arose out of the conflict of British sanitary requirements with native customs.

Sakitty, the king of East Corbo, died recently after a few days' illness, and, according to native custom, was buried in his house.

Commissioner Williams, however, insisted upon burial in the proper place, and told the natives such burials had been prohibited by ordinance.

A dispute arose on the point, which resulted in an attack upon the commissioner, who took shelter in a German house, and telegraphed to the governor.

Hostilities were averted, Sakitty being exhumed and re-interred elsewhere.

The late king held a collar and sword from Queen Victoria, bestowed upon him by Her Majesty for efficient services rendered to the British government in the Ashantee war of 1873-74, although he was practically forced to side with the British under pain of death and the immediate occupation of his country.

Otherwise, it is stated the late chief was disposed to sympathize with the Ashantees.

TOLEDO RAILROADS

Will Ignore the Griffin Switching Bill.

The Ohio Coal Traffic Association to Meet.

Toledo Superintendents' Meeting—Earnings of Local Roads—The General Passenger Agents—Other Matters of Local Interest.

Not long ago the Toledo freight committee sent notices to the various local roads to the effect that it was time that something be done in the matter of the Griffin switching bill. From the answers that have been received and from those that have not been received it would look as if the local roads would ignore the bill. It is probable that the matter will have to end in the courts. The attorneys for the different roads seem to think that the bill won't hold in law.

Ohio Coal Traffic Association.

A meeting of the standing committee of the Ohio Coal Traffic association at Columbus to-morrow for the purpose of further considering the matter of the division of railway fuel supply and other important matters.

Increase	$ 23,656

The earnings for the last week in March amounted to $50,875, an increase of $1,083 over the same week of last year.

A. J. Smith Elected President.

At the recent annual meeting of the Association of General Passenger Agents at Monterey, Cal., D. S. Hanson, of the Boston & Albany, was made president for the ensuing year. F. Chandler, of the Wabash, was chosen vice-president, and A. J. Smith, of the Lake Shore, secretary. The meeting was pleasant and profitable, though not largely attended.

Commences To-day.

To-day the Lake Shore company will commence the work of double tracking its lines between Buffalo and Chicago. The greater portion of the line has been double-tracked already, and the principal work this year will be to tie together the principal stretches of double track now used as sidings. The company expects to have this work finished by the middle of next September.

A LUCKY ESCAPE.

Fortunate is the man or woman residing in a malaria-ridden locality who escapes the dreaded scourge. Not one in a thousand does. When the epidemic is a periodical and wide spread visitation, it is just as common to see whole communities suffering from it as single individuals. The most vigorous constitution is not proof against it—how much less a system feeble or disordered. As a means of protection against malaria, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the supreme medicinal agent. It will uproot any form of malarial disease implanted in the system, and even in regions where miasmatic complaints are mostly malignant and deadly, such as the Isthmus of Panama, Guatemala and the tropics generally, it is justly regarded as an efficient safeguard. No less efficacious is it as a curative and preventive of chronic indigestion, liver trouble, constipation, rheumatism, kidney complaints and la grippe.

Edison will keep monkeying with electricity until he will get into trouble with some of the other planets. He is about to send skyward some copper electrical wires, to catch sound waves from the sun.

Congressman J. D. Taylor representing the district across the river deserves a leather medal for being the biggest chump who has yet opened his mouth on the protection side of the tariff question.

Superintendent of the Census Porter has ordered a new examination of the industries of Philadelphia. Discrepancies and inaccuracies involving millions of dollars were discovered in the work of the special agent. Out of 2,716 schedules of business enterprises, 1,111 were found to be inaccurate. These things a cursory examination has revealed, and now the work must be done over at the cost of the country. Next?

In his first interview, on board the La Champagne, which brought him into port, Minister Reid quietly remarks that it was a very difficult matter to arrange the reciprocity treaty between France and the United States, and that there is not much trade between the two countries in the articles affected by the treaty. He also said he thought he was going to Paris for a rest and found himself overwhelmed with duties. Which means that all the fussing about the "reciprocity" business amounts to very little beyond giving the minister plenipo. difficult tasks to perform.

"Montana has a piece of land one mile square for every man, woman and child in the state, and 10,000 acres over." This statement sounds well, but the question arises in a thoughtful mind, how much of this unused land is open to settlement? The Northern Pacific has claims in Montana. Are these reckoned in? That alleged irrigation company is empowered to take up land, almost without limit, in Montana. Are these acres reckoned in? Neither Montana, nor the United States government itself, "has," or can dispose of, land to which the title has already been given away, whether the land is in use or not.

The Czar of Russia has just gotten up a row in the family by presenting the Crown estate of Palovsk to Grand Duke Constantine instead of to Vladimir, who claimed right to the magnificent property. And Russian peasants are starving to death on their small patches of profitless soil, being prohibited by ukase from leaving them. These must stay and starve, while others must go and starve or not, as happens them. These things are serious dampers on the world's charity, while conditions which bring about the distress not only remain, but are augmented in cruelty by recent pronunciamentos.

It is natural, perhaps, that the Harrison administration should want to lock arms with Argentina. The Harrison party was in favor of the election force bill. Here is a description of how they vote in the country with the silvern title:

Policemen armed with swords and revolvers were placed at all the street corners, the polling places were occupied with strong detachments of police and policemen armed with rifles were posted on the roofs of adjoining houses.

The fire brigade, fully armed, was concentrated in the central police department, and the troops of the garrison were massed just outside the city.

Every citizen elector was armed with a revolver and the political clubs swarmed with men armed wit hrifles and revolvers.

Bradstreet's reports for the first quarter of 1892 show a much larger volume of business than was shown for the first three months of 1891. The total number of failures reported in the United States and territories, January 1 to March 31, 1892, are 3,207, against 3,401 for a like period last year. In the estimated liabilities as against assets the loss is much lighter for 1892. Failures have increased in the eastern and middle states, however, the states where tariff changes were counted on to do the most good. In these ten states there are recorded ten per cent. more failures for this year than for last. The decrease is in the west, northwest and Pacific states, and the abundant harvests of last fall account for the better showing.

The Courier-Journal grows quite exasperated with the false and insincere statements, purported to be made by democrats, in order to enable republicans to make a case out for their McKinley tin. It concludes a column of sound exposition of the fraud in these words:

There is not a newspaper in the country that is opposed to the manufacture of tin in the United States. If these people can make tin plate as cheaply as it can be made abroad, as some of the have asserted, there is scarcely a dealer or a consumer in the country that would not be disposed to give them the preference. What we are opposed is doubling the cost of an article of prime necessity in order to allow a few men to amuse themselves by dipping imported plates into imported tin.

A curious amendment has been saddled on the constitutional convention bill now before the New York assembly. As amended the bill provides for 171 delegates, thirty-two of whom, elected at large, shall represent equally the democratic and republican parties. 128 shall be elected in the districts of the state, and eleven shall be appointed by the governor. Of these eleven, five are to represent organized labor, three woman suffrage, and three prohibition. The convention is to meet in June, 1893.

CONCERNING IMMIGRATION.

"Our National Dumping Ground: A Study of Immigration," is an article of weight and value in the current number of the North American Review. The writers are Hon. John B. Weber, United States commissioner of immigration, and Charles Stewart Smith, president of the New York chamber of commerce. Mr. Weber, who was also a member of the commission lately sent to Europe to investigate immigration, would seem, from the opportunity his office has given to study the question at first hand, to speak with authority. His opinion is that "the evils of immigration are purely imaginary in some features, greatly aggravated in others and susceptible of nearly complete remedy by the amendment of existing laws.

He does not believe that old world countries, Russia excepted, "transport their paupers, criminals or other defectives to this country," nor does he believe that the "constitutional vagabond" voluntarily emigrates. The overcrowding of our cities, creating an army of unemployed, is conceded, but we are reminded this is largely the effect of the flocking townward of our own rural population. The contention is that our resources are far from the desirable condition of development, and that our boasted growth is largely the result of the coming and assimilation of foreign born men and women.

Against the suggested consular inspection of intending emigrants Mr. Weber makes strong and seemingly unanswerable arguments. In brief he believes this will bring the least desirable immigrants, the young and the old; men of military age would be denied certificates. The certificate of foreign local authorities being the basis on which consulars would approve of applications, these authorities would "facilitate the going of the defective;" and, finally as to this point, "the expense of $500,000 annually will be necessary to prove consular inspection a failure." For congress to enact this law would be to "amputate the foot to get rid of a corn."

Mr. Weber suggests as the only necessary measures to regulate immigration: The perfecting of existing statutes where they are weak; rigid inspection at our ports; guarding the frontiers, especially on the north; placing the expense of returning immigrants on the steamship companies that brought them over; making subagents in this country responsible for the sale of prepaid tickets; holding aliens, up to the time of their acquiring citizenship, liable to compulsory return to the country whence they came; expelling aliens who are paupers or have fled from crimes committed, or who shall commit crimes or become paupers before becoming citizens.

Mr. Smith's contribution opens with an interesting dissertation upon the philosophy and history of immigration. He then inquires into the effect on the social and material interests of the United States of immigration during the present century, giving authoritative and valuable statistics of the number and nationality of immigrants, and of their relation to pauperism and crime.

Unlike Mr. Weber, Mr. Smith believes in consular inspection, and that while a character standard is impossible to reach an intelligence test is practicable and would be profitable. He would have congress enact a law making the acceptance of all immigrants over fifteen years of age depend upon their being able to read and write in their native language, and have our consuls examine all intending emigrants and issue certificates only to those meeting this requirement. With this amendment he holds that "existing laws, properly enforced, would protect society from the evils connected with immigration."

The two sides of this perplexing question are ably presented in these two papers.

WILD FINANCIERING.

It is very doubtful whether the bill is constitutional which has been introduced in the Iowa legislature and has passed the lower house, making silver a legal tender in payment of all debts contracted after the passage of the bill. It is the business of congress to define the legal tender, and it is clear that it should not differ in one state from others. The introduction and serious advocacy of such a measure shows the confusion and vagueness of the ideas that are coming to the front in relation to causes of financial depression and as to the directions in which relief may be profitably sought.

The advocates of the bill insist that as a law it will prevent individuals and companies lending money to real estate owners from inserting the gold-payment clause in the mortgages. They do not see that were this law to stand money lenders would secure their profits in other and less straightforward ways. The abridgement of freedom of contract only increases distress and confusion when the necessity of securing a loan arises.

The lender is never forced to lend. When a man must borrow he will secure his loan on any terms. If it has been by legislation made unprofitable to lend money in the state, the would-be borrower is made to feel it and to suffer from it in his emergency. The silver-tender bill should be killed in the Iowa senate, and the Clapp bill should be killed in the Ohio upper house, both for the same reasons: They injure the man they are intended to help; they are of doubtful constitutionality; they are class legislation, and they will benefit no one.

WASHINGTON BOOTH,

The Ex-Collector of the Port of Baltimore Dies at an Advanced Age.

Baltimore, April 4.—Washington Booth, ex-collector of the port of Baltimore, died at 2:20 this morning, after a lingering illness caused by general breakdown. Mr. Booth has held many positions of importance in Baltimore.

He was appointed collector of the port by President Grant in 1873, and served in that capacity for three years when he was obliged to resign on account of ill health.

He was at the time of his death vice-president and director of several large concerns and was also resident consul for Chili at Baltimore. He was 71 years of age.

RELIGIOUS TROUBLES.

The Feeling Against the Jesuits Grows Stronger Each Year.

Berlin, April 4.—The feeling against the Jesuits, aroused udring the struggle over the primary education bill, when it was charged that one object of the measure was to introduce the Jesuits into Prussian schools, has not abated.

The authorities of Dortmund, Prussia, a strongly Lutheran town, have prohibited the Jesuits from holding an intended conference at that place.

The Jesuits and Ultramontanes, generally, are very indignant, and Father Granderath, the noted Jesuit, will, it is said, appeal to the reichstag, against what is claimed to be nothing short of religious prosecution.

JUSTICE LAMAR'S ILLNESS.

Washington, April 4.—The condition of Justice Lamar, of he supreme court, is much more serious than the public generally is aware of.

He has suffered with hemorrhages from the lungs for several days, and in addition is said to have symptoms of Bright's disease.

His family is greatly worried at his condition. The recurrence of the hemorrhages precludes sleep and this greatly aggravates his trouble.

Treasurer Peterson Does Not Propose to Go Out of Office Without Making a Good Fight.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 4.—County Treasurer, ad interim, T. J. Buxton, filed a bond for $1,000,000 to-day and qualified. He then demanded of the suspended treasurer, H. O. Peterson, possession of the office.

This Peterson, on the advice of his attorneys, refused to give, and it is evident that there is to be a contest in the courts.

Peterson claims that the law under which he was removed by the governor is unconstitutional, and further that as the governor signed the order when in Chicago, he could not legally act while out of the state.

Force may be used by the authorities in dispossessing Peterson, but the procedure has not yet been determined upon. Meanwhile Peterson has the office barred and bolted, and seems to be prepared to withstand an attack.

THE PAINTERS' STRIKE.

The Brotherhood Scale Is Rejected by the Master Painters' Association, and the Union Painters Go Out—The Bee Tells Both Sides of the Story.

The threatened trouble for the building trades took definite shape yesterday when, at a special meeting of Union No. 7, Brotherhood of Painters and Decorators, it was ascertained that the Master Painters' association had decided not to pay the new union scale, and the union in consequence ordered a strike.

To-day the edict of the union was carried out. The union painters, to the number of 175, refused to go to work till the bosses agreed to the scale, and again met in special session at their headquarters in Clark's hall, where they are receiving reports of committees and also receiving recruits to the union.

Long Brewing Trouble.

The trouble now precipitated has been long brewing, and the story, as told by representatives of the men, is as follows:

In January, 1891, the painters and decorators asked for $2.25 for a day's work of nine hours. They were then—as they are now—getting $2 for a nine-hour day. They asked for this scale to go into effect on the first of April last. The bosses refused to agree to it, and the men did not strike, but worked the season through at the old rate. This year they make a demand for $2.50 a day, and have struck to enforce it, since the bosses will not agree to it.

"We know we are not asking more than painters in other cities are getting," said the secretary of No. 7. "We are 175 strong and have this morning received 25 applications for membership, so that we are sure we can control the trade. We gave 10 days' notice of this, and we don't want to hurt business, but we are in shape not to be put off as we were last year, and we don't mean to be.

"Several firms who employ only a few men have agreed to the scale, and our committees are out now, waiting on the others. We shall have a report at 2 o'clock. Geo. B. Evans, of Monroe street, signed the scale this morning. The manager for Brown, Eager & Hull, a firm that pays all the way from $2 to $3.50, promises to request their employes to join the union. We feel confident the trouble will not last long, and we are coming out all right."

In addition to Evans and Brown, Eager & Hull, the firms signing the scale are R. P. Matheis, 1409 Huron street; Frank I. Howells & Co., 327 Superior street; Geo. H. Bender & Co., 1203 Adams street; Frank C. Boetcher, Hicks street; J. Dimmer, 1906 Walnut street.

The Master Painter's Story.

A visit to the handsome headquarters of Allen & Parkhurst disclosed the fact that their men had all gone out, and work was stopped. Mr. Parkhurst was looking over his tackle, getting ready to go fishing.

"Yes," said Mr. Parkhurst, "my men are all out, except a few new ones I have hired this morning. They hated to go, but had to. We pay all the way from $2.25 to $3.50, but these men insist we shall pay $2.50 a day to barn painters and all.

"I don't know what our course will be," Mr Parkhurst continued. "We shall do what the rest agree upon. As a firm we have no trouble with our own men, and in a general trouble like this the Master Painters' association will probably meet and take action. A year ago, when the men demanded $2.25, the association of which I am president, declined to give it. They could not, because of the prices they had made in their contracts with builders. We then told the men to give us six months' notice when they wanted the scale changed, and we would try and meet them. They have again let us figure on buildings and make contracts and then asked for a raise, with only 10 days' notice. The result, is, business is stopped. It is going to prevent lots of building this summer if this thing keeps up. A man came in this morning, who has plans for a $20,000 block, and the first thing he said was that 'not a brick' would be laid for him this year. We hope the trouble won't be serious. I hope our men will keep sober, and I believe they will."

Mr. Parkhurst said that so far no committee from the union had waited on him, nor had he been asked to call a meeting of the Master Painters' association, as he would do upon request of three or five members.

"All the employers," he said, "are without men this morning. That is, all who employ any number. The firms spoken of in the morning paper as signing the scale have no painters at work, or at most only one or two."

Building Trades Council Appealed To.

There is little change in the situation this afternoon. Twelve more applicants for membership in the union were received. The committees appointed to wait on the individual bosses reported to the strike committee at Clark's hall at 3 o'clock. In a number of cases the employers had not been seen, and in no case had any favorable answers been given. At this writing it looks like a long strike was on. The strike committee will report the situation at the Building Trades council this evening, and there will probably be a lively session of that body. The Central Labor union indorsement of the strike will also be asked for.

COAL RATES FROM TOLEDO.

The Price of Coal Loaded in Vessels Here.

It Will Be Maintained by an Ironclad Agreement—A Fine to be Imposed for Underselling.

The Lake Coal Shippers' association has agreed on rates for the coming season. Very few and slight changes have been made. The rates from Toledo to the other lake ports will remain about the same as last season.

The price of coal loaded in vessels at Toledo and Lake Erie ports, for the season goes into effect to-day and is protected by an iron-clad agreement.

Ohio coal in vessel will sell at $2 per ton and Pittsburg coal at $2.25 per ton.

This agreement will continue in effect until February 1, 1893.

That there may be no cutting the producers have each deposited in proper hands a sufficient sum to be forfeited in case they do not somply with the agreement to keep them in the straight and narrow path.

A tax of one cent a ton on all coal handled will also be deposited with a board of trustees, and if anyone is found underselling they will be tried by an executive board and fined.

This should not be misconstrued into a trust or combine by those who do not understand the situation thoroughly. It is merely to establish for a certainty a good, healthy price that will allow producers to live and carry on their business without loss.

Peace has been declared and it looks as if the season would be a prosperous one for all concerned.

BADLY BRUISED.

Norwalk, O., April 4.—Henry Koenig, a W. & L. E. fireman, was quite badly injured Saturday. When a freight train was passing the Norwalk passenger depot, going west, Koenig, who stood on the platform, thought he would jump on and ride to the shops. As he climbed up the side of a freight car his body struck the corner of one of the rainsheds over the platform, and he was knocked off the car, falling heavily to the platform. He was picked up unconscious and taken to his home.

AT THE THEATRES.

The Limited Mail Opens To-Night at the People's.

Elmer E. Vance's realistic comedy drama, The Limited Mail, opens a week's engagement at the People's this evening. The piece will be presented by a good company and excellent scenery. A number of clever specialties will be introduced by the dashing soubrette, Miss Grace Sherwood, Harry Blaney and the Railroad Quartet. While all the scenic effects are good, the wreck scene, the telegraph scene and the flight of the Limited Mail are especially so.

The Ohio State Journal says of the piece: "The initial presentation of the Limited Mail last night was a grand triumph. It is one of the most intensely interesting and cleverly wrought productions that has ever been seen in the city."

Cornell Boys To-morrow Evening.

The Cornell Glee, Banjo and Mandolin clubs will appear at Wheeler's to-morrow evening. They are considered one of the college organizations on the road and their music, both vocal and instrumental, is unexcelled. There are 32 young men in the clubs and if they don't shake the rafters at Wheeler's it won't be the faults of college boys. From present indications the house will be packed.

Lillian Kennedy, Wednesday.

The charming English soubrette, Lillian Kennedy, will appear at Wheeler's Wednesday, in the bright comedy, She Couldn't Marry Three, supported by her brother, a talented young comedian, and a strong company. The piece is produced with special scenery throughout, and the performance will doubtless prove one of the most enjoyable of the season.

Russell Saturday Night.

A Poor Relation will be played by Sol Smith Russell at Wheeler's, Saturday evening.

In The Poor Relation Mr. Russell has made probably the most pronounced success of his career. It combines the pathetic with the comic in the most happy manner. In Noah Vale he has a character that fits his personality and his temperament to perfection. Its humor is at all times tinged with the pathetic. The whole play is pervaded with a wholesome sentiment.

Mr. Russell occupies a unique position among players. He has a line in which he has neither competitors nor imitators. His style is so distinctly his own as to make him an exceedingly interesting figure on the current stage.

There was no apparent effort on the comedian's part to touch the hearts of his audience. There is no striving after effect. But in many of the scenes tears came to the eyes of the audience almost before the smile had left their lips. Miss Anna Belmont, of this city, appears in the piece.

Mr. Barnes of New York.

Next week Monday and Tuesday F. W. Sanger's Broadway Theater company will present the romantic drama, Mr. Barnes of New York, at Wheeler's. It is a dramatization of Gunter's famous novel of that name which had such a large sale some two years ago. The story is one that cannot fail to interest, hold and thrill the reader, and it should be doubly interesting presented on the stage.

Reserved Seat Sale.

Commencing to-day reserved seats for Wheeler's will be sold at the Model Clothing House, corner of Summit and Jefferson streets. This arrangement will continue during the rebuilding of Holmes' drug store.

VETERAN IN THE SERVICE.

Tiffin, O., April 4.—J. T. Kaup, of this city, who has been in the postal service for the past 20 years, running on the Lake Shore and New York Central railways, has recently been transferred to the ocean service between New York city and Hamburg. He entered the mail service when it was in its infancy, and like many of his co-laborers, assisted in perfecting the system, and has been left undisturbed by the changes of political administration.

FATALLY CRUSHED.

Lima, O., April 4.—Little Bessie, the 5-year old daughter of John McCarthy, while crossing Main street, was run over by a beer wagon and fatally injured.

When a commander in the United States navy remains on waiting orders for 15 years, as in the case of F. R. Smith (who has just been examined for promotion to a captaincy), it may be inferred that either the navy department is short on ships or long on officers.

Land booms in Florida seem to be more rapid than railroads. A short time ago two men chartered an engine and car for Gainesville to get some deeds on record in a hurry; but they were too late, having been passed on the way by two others, who had started at the same time for the same purpose with a horse and buggy.

A LESSON TO WOMEN.

Mrs. Van Buren Finds the Means of Curing Woman's Ills.

How shall women be relieved of the nervous condition that so commonly afflicts them?

Mrs. Hannah Van Buren, of Valatie, N. Y., has the answer, gained through personal experience.

"I am now 62 years old," says Mrs. Van Buren. For several years different physicians have treated me, but with so little benefit that I began to despair of ever being cured.

"I suffered from nervous debility, neuralgia in my back and shoulders so severe that I could not lift my hands to my head, and terrible sleeplessness.

"On a friend's advice I began using Paine's celery compound, and after taking nine bottles, can go to bed and sleep like a child. I am a well woman, with no more aches and pains, and this is all due to my use of Paine's celery compound."

Henry Kirchner, the postmaster, and Wilson Miller, justice of the peace, at Valatie, are well acquainted with Mrs. Van Buren, and vouch for the truth of her statement.

That Paine's celery compound did so much for this woman is an accepted fact; that it will do as much for every woman suffering from nervousness, sleeplessness, and similar ills, is a fact, that it will give new life, new energy, and new strength to you, will also be a fact if you use this valuable compound.

THE SONG OF THE TYPE.

Nightly while the millions sleep,
Revelers shout, the wretched weep,
And the watch lone vigils keep,
The printer works away;
With a click! click! click!
The type in his stick
Records the deeds of the day.

Heeds the youth with glowing face
That the lines he sets apace
Damn a soul with its disgrace?
They bear for him no smart,
And the click! click! click!
Of the type in his stick
Times with his joyous heart.

Thrills you man with sunken eye
As his nimble fingers fly
Forming words that glorify!
They him no joy impart;
And the click! click! click!
Of the type in his stick
Outruns his aching heart.

Does the reader realize,
Glancing o'er with rapid eyes,
Countless types those lines comprise,
Picked separate from the case,
That the click! click! click!
Of that type in the stick,
All night kept up its pace?

Thus it is through life we go,
Feeling not the joy, the woe,
Or the toiling others know,
Ah, better is it so;
For the click! click! click!
Of the type in his stick
Tells less of joy than woe.

—Ernest Lacy.

The increased use of steel for pipes, and the cheapness of this material, have it is understood, convinced the National Tube Works company, the largest manufacturers of tubes and pipes in the world, that steel must become the material for their product. Rev. John Jasper, who has recently been married for the third time, has rather weakened in his belief that "the sun do move." The First Reformed church of Albany was formally established in 1642, and installed in a log building, 34x19 feet, erected at a cost of $32. For 140 years the services were entirely in Dutch. In 1656 a new building was provided, the pulpit, bell, hourglass and weather vane for which were brought from Holland. In the present edifice, built in 1796, the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the church was celebrated on Sunday, when the sermon was preached from the old pulpit and timed by the old hourglass.

CARLTON'S BABY WIFE.

Three young men sat in a cosy sitting room, in one of those splendid, up-town palaces of New York, indulging in wine and cigars. Killing time, as they expressed it.

"Come, Hal," said one of the men to him who was their host, "tell us how you came to marry your baby wife, as you call her."

Then turning to the other guests in explanation, he remarked:

"She is only 15, and she won't be presentable for years yet."

"I was a fool," said Hal Carlton, "but I married her to get rid of her. Her father, Dr. Hart, was an old chum of mine, who sough his fortune in the west, where he lost his health, and returned only to consign his child to your humble servant's care before he took his leave for the spiritland. I drew a check for a thousand dollars and presented the money to my baby wife this morning. I guess she will have money enough to keep her in candy for some time;" and Hal Carlton's light laugh rang out as merrily as if he were cracking some joke on one of his cigars rather than speaking of his little wife.

A few minutes before this conversation a lithe form had glided into the library. The sound of voices from the sitting-room arrested her attention; she stood with only he heavy draperies between, and heard those words.

When Lily reached her own room she fell upon her knees, and the moans that would escape told of the terrible agony within. She had given her whole heart, and all that was loving in her nature, to this man. With no relatives except an uncle whom she had never seen, this man who spoke of her so lightly, was father, mother, brother, sister, husband, all.

"He does not love me!—he does not love me!" she murmured, as she knelt there.

An hour was spent in deep thought; then ringing for her maid, she ordered her trunks packed immediately.

Soon their preparations were completed, and within 24 hours Lily Carlton and her maid were bound for San Francisco, where Lily expected to find a home.

When Hal. Carlton entered the breakfast room, having slept later than usual, his wife was not there, and supposing her to have breakfasted hours before, his breakfast dispatched, he strolled leisurely down-town without seeking his "baby wife."

On his late return that night the servants were alarmed beyond measure at the non-appearance of their mistress.

Hal thought their alarm needless, but some time after even he began to wonder, and, stepping to his wife's chamber, he looked around for some token or message that would clear up the mystery; but there was nothing—not even a line or word.

Days passed, and a general search was made, but no tidings of either mistress or maid was received. At the end of two weeks a detective who had been engaged in the search came into Carlton's office, and asked him to accompany him to the "dead house" to examine a body that had been taken from the river, where it evidently had remained for some days.

Although much disfigured, the body was identified as Lily Carlton's. It was prepared for burial and carried to the splendid home from whence so short a time before the beautiful child-wife had fled.

Now Hal Carlton was free; but, strange as it may seem, he felt no joy in his freedom. He missed Lily. Too late he remembered and regretted.

But regrets were useless; however much we may desire it, the past can never be recalled.

* * * * * * *

He had just returned from Europe, and, of course, must be lionized, and, as his purse was known to be well filled, many mammas, with marketable daughters, were quite solicitous of standing first on his list of friends.

* * * * * * *

Mrs. Wilson's elegant parlors were crowded.

Hal Carlton, who arrived just in time to hear the first strains, leaned against the mantel. Mrs. Wilson whispered:

"I must present you to this lady; she is almost a stranger among us, but the most elegant and accomplished of our set."

"Who is she?"

"The adopted daughter of a Mr. Stanley, of San Francisco, who died about a year ago, leaving Miss Stanley heiress to a million and a half. Mr. Wilson's partner is her lawyer, and she has been staying in his family since her arrival."

Carlton's acquaintance with Miss Stanley grew into a friendship, and the friendship into love—at least on his part—and three months after Mrs. Wilson's party he called on Miss Stanley, and having decided at last, to open his heart and home to a second wife. After the usual preliminaries he made his proposal, but what was his horror when his idol, with blanched cheek and trembling lip, answered—

"I am already a wife."

As if a thunderbolt had struck him Carlton sank into a chair.

"You must have understood my attentions, and must have known that I love you. How could you be so heartless?"

"My father died when I was quite young, leaving me in charge of a trusty friend, who, rather than be bored with a ward, made me his wife. I fled and never saw my husband again until a few months ago, when, in walking past my former home, I met him face to face, but he did not recognize me."

Carlton seemed to have lost all power of speech, and only stared into the lady's face.

"Tell me the name of this villain," said he, arousing from the stupor that had enthralled him.

"Hallet Carlton," was the answer.

It was long before he returned to consciousness, and then only to sink into a feverish delirium which preceded long weeks of pain.

The beautiful monument erected over the supposed resting place of Lily Carlton, with its simple inscription of "My Dead Lily," still stands to mark the grave of one of the many "unknown" found in our rivers, while happy voices fill the hearts and home of Hallet and Lily Carlton.—New York News.

REID RETURNS HOME.

Minister to France is Again With Us.

Progress Reported in Making Treaties.

Mr. Reid Talks Entertainingly to a Press Representative on Subjects of National Importance.

New York, April 4.—Hon. Whitelaw Reid, minister to France, returned from Paris on the steamship La Champagne.

Mr. Reid was seen on board the steamer and talked freely concerning international affairs. He had with him the reciprocity and extradition treaties between the United States and France. Speaking of the treaties Mr. Reid said:

"Signing these treaties complete in all but few details every matter of negotiation pending between the United States and France. It only remains for the United States senate and French chamber of deputies to ratify them. Bringing to a successful issue these questions has been in many respects attended with much difficulty, owing largely to difference between methods and practice in France and the United States. The French civil law code and English common laws system which is the accepted practice in this country, has rendered that no easy task to make terms describing certain kinds of crimes synonomously. In many instances there was nothing in the French code by which well-defined crimes could be properly indicated. This has necessitated a great deal of legal finesse, and the negotiations have required much thought and labor. In fact, I thought when I went to Paris I would enjoy needed rest, but I found that there was a vast amount of labor in connection with my duties. The reciprocity treaty will doubtless be a benefit to both countries, although trade in articles by it is not as great as might be supposed. The French do not get a great deal of sugar or molasses from us, much of their supply coming direct from Martinique and other West India lands."

"Has the lifting of the embargo from American pork created an increase in the quantity exported?" was asked Mr. Reid.

"It has doubtless," he replied, "although there have been some complaints about the method of inspection. The fact is there was a great deal of prejudice against this article, and the administration in raising the embargo had to encounter strong opposition. To placate this feeling they made inspection rules very strict. Duties on pork are high, being 200 per cent., but whenever I broached the subject to them I was met with the very reasonable answer that they were only carrying out the system of protection inaugurated by my own government. There is a very strong protection party in France. The French government has made the mistake of endeavoring to reach at once, what has gradually been building in the United States for nearly a century. For instance they had advanced duties in some cases as high as 400 per cent. without a moment's warning, and the result has been to disturb commercial relations. This is especally true as between France and Spain."

"What is your opinion of the stability of the present government?"

"From what I can see it is constantly gaining strength. Certainly it is much stronger than when I first visited France 12 years ago. The recent attitude of the pope advising the Catholic subjects of France to support the considered authority has the effect of attaching the clerical party to the cause of the republic, although hitherto they have been in sympathy with monarchists. Parties in France are not as well defined as in this country, but are divided into numerous factions. The monarchists are a party opposed to the present form of government and in this country would be looked upon as traitors."

"What do you think are the chances of success for your party in the next campaign?"

"I have always observed that the surest way to put republicans on their mettle is to give them a scare. The last revolution in congress at the last election has thoroughly aroused them and I believe that history will repeat itself, and, taking lessons of adversity to heart, they will make a vigorous and winning fight. It will be a stout contest, but I think republicans will carry the elections this fall."

Mr Reid said that he had seen his name mentioned as a presidential candidate, but thought it more of a mark of friendliness on the part of newspaper men than anything else.

The small boy who, when asked his age, replied that, indeed by the fun he had had, he was 160 years old, pretty accurately described the feeling of the large audience at the Academy last night. Lillian Kennedy made a decided hit, and the amusement that was crowded into three hours to unravel "She Couldn't Marry Three" was enough for two nights; and all the roles essayed by Miss Kennedy and the strong support, was equally charming and successful. The company is far above the average, and is sure of big business.—New York Herald, July 13.

THE COMING COUNTRY.

The great Flathead Valley, in Montana, is attracting capital and labor. It is marvelously fertile in soil, has the largest coal veins on the Pacific slope, limitless forests of the finest timber and precious metals. Columbia Falls, the chief town of the region, has immense water power, and offers a good field for manufacturers. Maps and descriptive matter sent by the Northern International Improvement Co., Columbia Falls, Mont.

"Commercial agencies sometimes are asked to undertake rather queer investigations," remarked the manager of one of Chicago's big concerns, "but I know of one case which I do not believe has been equaled. A new church was built last year in a small town not a hundred miles from Chicago, and the little congregation was so proud of its success in securing a new structure that it was very anxious to secure as the first pastor a first-class man. A committee was appointed to consider this matter, and the feeling ran so high, that not only this committee, but the entire congregation became hopelessly divided over every candidate proposed. Objections were made to every name which was brought forward. Finally one of the committeemen wrote to a Chicago minister asking him to forward a list of a half dozen names of available men for the position. As soon as the committeeman received this list he forwarded it to a commercial agency here asking for a rating upon the men. The agency promptly replied that it could not undertake such a matter, but it inclosed its results of its investigations. Opposite each man's name was a memoranda, stating when and where he entered the ministry, the congregations he had served and the general results of his work, popularity, etc.

"The committee unanimously hit upon one of the names thus scheduled and a call was extended and accepted. The clergyman has been filling his new pulpit about a year and has been very successful. I often wonder what he would say, however, if he knew just how he had been selected."

The worst storm of the winter, or spring, has tucked Kansas under a quilt of snow eight inches thick, and the weary plowman who would be afield still sits in patience by his backlog awiting for ethereal weather.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

A Lively Time Predicted at the Coming Meeting.

San Francisco, April 4.—Timothy Hopkins, who resigned the treasurership of the Southern Pacific railroad, marked his retirement from railroad work by giving to Stanford university 1,000 volumes and 1,000 pamphlets on the history of railroading in the world with money to increase the collection.

Lawyer Stillman, of New York, representing Searles, is here, and Huntington will arrive to-morrow. The annual meeting will be held Wednesday.

Stanford will be on hand, and in case Stillman and Huntington carry things with too high a hand there will be a livelier row than two years ago.

It is rumored that Huntington wants the treasurership of the Southern Pacific for his favorite nephew, H. E. Huntington, whom he intends to make general manager of the Southern Pacific when Mr. Towne retires.

IS THIS SIGNIFICANT?

British Warships Appear to be Very Active Just Now.

The Pacific Squadron Is Attracting Considerable Attention.

Victoria, B. C., April 4.—The significant movements of the Pacific squadron are attracting considerable attention. During the past two weeks Admiral Hotham has altered the routes and dates of almost every vessel under his command and there is every reason to believe that when he himself arrives next week he will have in possession distinct instructions regarding any new phase of the Bering sea question, and it is evident that the British government intends, should the occasion call for it, that he shall have no lack of powerful material at his command.

The news of these significant movements will no doubt be full of interest to the people of the United States. It had been previously decided that the Daphne should go out of commission to-day, but it is now pretty certain that she will not.

The Warspite, instead of taking a trip to Honolulu and staying there for some time, is now on her way up to Esquimalt as fast as steam can bring her. The Champion will not summer in Chilean waters, according to her former program, but apparently has other work on hand, as she is fast coming up the coast in the track of the Warspite.

The powerful Melpomene is also, by latest orders, withdrawn from Chile, and is just leaving Acapulco for Esquimalt. By the middle of the month the Melpomene will be anchored among the other vessels. The Nymphe and Garnet will then be the only British warships in the vicinity of Chile.

The postage stamp is of such universal use that it is difficult to realize that it is but half a century old, though as a matter of fact it is barely 50 years since the convenient article was introduced into the United States. The stamp is a little older in England, where, when first introduced, it was sold in sheets, with no perforation holes to assist in tearing off straight. The loss and inconvenience which resulted from efforts to tear off stamps in a hurry led to the government offering a liberal price for a patent whereby the difficulty could be offset. The first man to come near securing the prize was an aged saddler, who perfected a stamping machine which cut the stamps nearly apart, only leaving a small piece of margin at each corner. While the postoffice department was considering whether or not to adopt this the idea of perforating the sheets in rows each way was submitted and accepted. When a better quality of paper and mucilage was used than now this plan answered admirably, and it has been found so generally satisfactory that no improvement has been attempted upon it.

A GREAT REMEDY.

OUT OF THE HURLY BURLY.

Out of the hurly burly,
Far from the toil and strife,
Away from the care which is everywhere
Making a curse of this life,
Gone to the grave's oblivion—
None need your pity there—
Keep all the tears of the incoming years
For the living whose pain you must share.
Preach to the winds of heaven,
Pray to the empty air;
The weak and the small must go to the wall,
Might rights itself everywhere,
There's love—in the misty future;
There's justice—beyond the grave;
The rich and the strong their pleasure prolong
By the promises given the slave,
There's heaven for hopeful Christians,
Who've naught to expect from to-day;
But death alone can we make our own,
With no one to say us nay.
Out of the hurly burly,
Away from the feast and the fast,
Into the gloom of the silent tomb,
Where all find one level at last.

HEALTHY. HAPPY. WHY?

Is he a bright child? Does he look healthy and happy? He is bright, and he is both healthy and happy. He is the little son of Mrs. Henry T. Bowers, wife of the well-known contractor and builder, who resides in Dorchester avenue, South Boston. Mrs. Bowers has had quite an experience with her children, which experience we give in her own words, as follows:

"I have a little boy two and one-half years of age, the perfect picture of rugged health, and also a little girl of four. I attribute their good health and good temper to the use of Dr. Hand's Remedies.

I have used, as occasion required, the entire line, and have had very marked results from the Colic Cure, Cough and Croup Medicine, and the Pleasant Physic. I have never had any but good result from the use of any of them."

No mother would make a statement like the above unless she knew wholly whereof she affirmed.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, after years of experience, have discovered the greatest cure known for weakness in the back and limbs, involuntary discharges, impotency, general debility, nervousness, languor, confusion of ideas, palpitation of the heart, timidity, trembling, dimness of sight, or giddiness, diseases of the head, throat, nose, or skin, affections of the liver, lungs, stomach, or bowels—those terrible disorders arising from the solitary vice of youth—and secret practices, blighting their most radiant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage impossible. TO MIDDLE-AGED MEN.—There are many from the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight burning or smarting sensation, weakening the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examination of the urinary deposits, a ropy sediment will be found, or the color will be a thin or milkish hue. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is a second stage of seminal weakness. We will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

In treatment of diseases peculiar to females, success has been marked, over two-thirds of our patients being ladies, old, young, married, single, or [illegible]. Our method is entirely free from objectionable features of the general practitioner, namely, "Local treatment." We seldom find it necessary. CONSPIRACY.

Frankfort, April 4.—The Zeitung says that Russo-Bulgarian conspiracy has been organized in Odessa, with branches in Constantinople and Belgrade, supported by the Bulgarian government to defray the cost of the Russian occupation, and that the Russian government is cognizant of a settled plan to overthrow the Stambouloff government in Bulgaria.

A VALUABLE REMEDY.

Brandreth's Pills purify the blood, stimulate the liver, strengthen the kidneys, regulate the bowels. They were introduced in the United States in 1835. Since that time over sixty millions of boxes of Brandreth's Pills have been used.

This, together with thousands of convincing testimonials from all parts of the world, is positive evidence of their value.

PUTS ON A BOLD FRONT.

Melbourne, Australia, April 4.—In contrast to his behavior on first being lodged in prison here, Deeming now assumes a bold front. He has said to his solicitor: "Wait until I get out and I will make the newspapers sit up. I will sue every one of them for libel. The idea that I had anything to do with 'Jack the Ripper's' work is absurd."

A beach may resist the sea for years, yet in a few hours it may be stripped bare to the solid rock. Shells may be covering the bottom a mile off shore, undisturbed by on-shore gales; a storm, with wind and waves apparently much the same as usual, may sweep them all on shore. In other words the will of old ocean in modifying shore lines is practically irresistible and his occasional devastation remediless.

Word has been received here from Bradford, to the effect that Mrs. Robert Bell is greatly improved in health. Her Toledo friends will hear this with a great deal of pleasure.

Mr. Butler has been with the Morgan Lithograph Co., of Cleveland, as designer, but has severed his connection with that firm to go with the Strobridge Co., of Cincinnati. They leave for that city to-morrow and will reside there permanently.

Mrs. Kimball left for Bridgeport, Conn., this morning with the remains of her husband, Edward H. Kimball, who for many years, was connected with the Lake Shore freight office, and who died in Mount Clemens, February 27. Mrs. Kimball, on her return from the east, will be in Mount Clemens, Mich., for the summer.

Last Friday evening at the residence of Lina Keith, a very pleasant musical was rendered by her pupils. Miss Nettie Wolfman recited "Her Ideal" to perfection and was heartily encored. Miss Gertrude Andrews also recited the "Legend of Bregenz," attired in a Tyroline costume of blue tulle, very becomingly. There was a large crowd present, and all wished much success to Miss Keith and her pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Isherwood, of Austin, Tex., recently gave a "tackey" party for their guests, Mrs. Frank Schwin, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Chapin, of Toledo, and Mr. and Mrs. Vories P. Brown, of San Antonio. Some sixty guests enjoyed their hospitality, as well as a bountiful supper, together with cards and dancing. Tacky parties in Texas are highly enjoyable, and their feature is for the guests to dress in a peculiar or ridiculous costume, on the style of masquerade parties, except that no one masks the face.

So many important murder trials have taken place recently in which the decisions have turned upon circumstantial evidence that an incident which comes from Kansas seems to be in point. Fred M. Staley, an Illinois man, moved into Potowattomie county, Kansas, a number of years ago and took up a ranch. Last fall he decided to spend the winter among his old friends in Illinois, but he did not make his intentions known to any of his neighbors. One day two young men of his acquaintance asked him to ride with them to town, which he did, and, on reaching there, he casually remarked that he believed that he should take that train for the east. This he did. He had never written since or heard anything from Kansas until last week when he took up a paper and read that these two young men with whom he had last ridden in Kansas, had been indicted for his murder. Mr. Staley hastened home and had his acquaintances released, but had it not been for this chance item it is believed they would have been convicted of murder, as the circumstantial evidence against them appeared to be especially strong and clear. This shows the care with which such evidence is to be investigated and the caution with which it is to be received.

There is a decidedly ludicrous phase to all this discussion which has been current since Jay Gould gave $10,000 to the Presbyterian Church Extension society, as to whether that body should have accepted the gift. It has given rise to innumerable questions as to the sources from which the money for church work can be properly derived. It seems to us that Dr. J. M. Buckley has hit the nail on the head in these matters, in an answer to correspondent who asked whether a church ought to accept contributions from a brewer. Says Dr. Buckley: "Shall a shoemaker refuse to take pay for a pair of shoes which he sells a distiller because of the business the man is in? or a teacher refuse to take pay for teaching the children of a man in such business? One man refused to receive a subscription to a church by a man who was living on money inherited from his father, who was a rumseller, while the said man who offered the subscription was a total abstinence man. No precept enjoining or act paralleling such folly can be found in the Bible."

From Eastern Asia comes a plant the flowers of which contain a quantity of juice that rapidly turns black or deep purple on exposure to air. It is used by Chinese ladies for dyeing their hair and eyebrows, and in Japan for blacking shoes.
